

Exercise: Explaining things in “customer language”

POINTS TO DISCUSS:

1. As a large group, look at the brochures you will use with customers and find “features.”
2. Then, as a group, say why you think the features are important or done this way.
3. Finally, say what all this might mean to customers.